Ethical issues

Registration Page

- Data Collection Without Justification: Asking for too much personal data without explaining why could be unethical or breach GDPR.
- Consent and Transparency: Users must understand what they're agreeing to when signing up.
- Ethical Response: Ask only for necessary data, include clear terms of service/privacy policy, and require informed consent.

Notifications

- Over-notification or Manipulation: Sending excessive or pushy notifications might be seen as manipulative or encourage unhealthy habits.
- Sensitive Content: Notifications may reveal personal information if they pop up on locked screens.
- Ethical Response: Let users customize notification settings and ensure messages are respectful and non-intrusive.

Messaging

- Harassment or Abuse: Direct messaging between users introduces the risk of inappropriate or harmful communication.
- Moderation Responsibility: Developers need to consider if and how chats are monitored or reported.
- Ethical Response: Add reporting/blocking options, flag inappropriate content, and clearly state moderation policies.

Find a Buddy (Matching System)

- Algorithmic Bias: Matching based on limited or biased criteria (e.g., only matching users in urban areas, or by age/gender) could be discriminatory.
- Informed Pairing: Users might be paired with unsafe or inappropriate matches if background or behavior is not verified.
- Ethical Response: Provide transparent matching logic and filtering options and consider including a reporting/blocking feature.

Profile Page

- Privacy of Personal Information: Displaying sensitive details (age, gender, fitness level, location, etc.) might expose users to unwanted contact or profiling.
- Data Misuse: Profile information could be scraped or misused if not protected properly.
- Ethical Response: Allow users to control what information is visible and implement strong access controls and encryption.
